Our service philosophy

Mann Made was formed in 2005 with a business philosophy of trust, transparency and professionalism. Our aim is to become the leading and most respected service provider in our chosen fields.

We work in partnership with clients because for us there is no other way.

We are able to deliver and efficiently implement creative solutions. Structures that achieve our clients' aims at pre-agreed fees.

Where others see problems, we see opportunities. We have the experience, technical knowledge and the passion and commitment to help you succeed.

Our senior people are hands on. We do not meet and greet and walk away, leaving you to deal with inexperienced staff. At Mann Made our senior people are proactive on our clients' affairs.

Our service philosophy means there is clarity in our service and our charges.

Corporate services

Our growing team is able to establish, manage and control a wide variety of corporate entities and create structures ranging from simple trading and consulting companies to complex multi jurisdictional groups and fund structures.

We can form companies in all major jurisdictions and place great emphasis on effective management and corporate governance.

We understand the complexities of international trade and the need to execute transactions efficiently.

Trust services

Trusts are increasingly used in the effective management of financial arrangements for high net worth families and individuals.

Our trust experience extends from asset protection through to charitable and complex financial trusts. Our overriding emphasis is to ensure that each trust is managed in a manner compatible with the parties involved.

Taxation services

We follow the dictum of the Duke of Westminster case “every man is free to organise their affairs to minimise the incidence of taxation”. We have the experience and creativity to deliver tax solutions.

The primary focus of our taxation services is to ensure clients’ tax liabilities are minimised from an international perspective whilst ensuring they remain compliant with relevant laws.

Our team of UK and international tax specialists is well respected within the industry and is able to undertake complex tax planning projects for trusts, corporates and individuals, often involving cross border tax issues.

Accounting services

Our ability to undertake bookkeeping and prepare management and statutory accounts in house allows us to ensure they are prepared accurately, at a fixed cost and within deadlines dictated by both our clients and the appropriate authorities.

In addition to accounting Mann Made Accounting Services Limited offers the complementary services of payroll, VAT and tax compliance.

Yacht and aircraft services

The world's super yachts are largely corporately owned and managed.

We will help structure the most tax and VAT efficient solutions drawing on our in house expertise.

Our capabilities include day to day management, VAT recovery and mitigation, crew management, yacht registration and all associated corporate services.

We can also facilitate VAT registration and planning for aircraft and provide associated services.

Our people

Alan Hollingsworth, having spent over twenty years in the trust and corporate service provider industry, founded Mann Made in 2005 for clients wanting to build long term business relationships with likeminded experienced and able people

Alan's particular areas of expertise are corporate structuring and banking. Alan has an intuitive understanding of clients' needs and the ability to ensure the delivery of effective solutions within agreed deadlines.

Mark Cundy is a Chartered Accountant and tax specialist and joined Mann Made in 2007. A graduate from the London School of Economics, Mark developed his tax expertise at Price Waterhouse. Prior to joining Mann Made Mark was the Head of Taxation for one of the largest multijurisdictional trust companies in the world.

Mark thrives on solving complex tax problems and has been instrumental in structuring several multinational groups and partnerships.

Sue Townsend is a co-founder and has specialised in company services for over twenty years working for trust companies in both London and the Isle of Man. Sue is now Head of Operations for Mann Made and her management and organisational skills are vital to the efficient running of the group

Tim Henwood is our legal Director and trust specialist. Tim is a qualified Lawyer in South Africa and a registered legal practitioner in the Isle of Man. Tim has over fifteen years experience in all types of trust work both in Jersey and in the Isle of Man.

Tim also takes an active role in our yachting department as well as overseeing a large number of private clients.

David Cathersides is a finance specialist heading up our London office. A Certified Accountant, he qualified and gained most of his experience within international banking in both Australia and the UK.

David has a particular knowledge of one off transactional business and his attention to detail makes him ideal for complex hands-on advice and assistance.

Marian Ashcroft is head of accounting and tax compliance. Marian has spent over 20 years in corporate tax and accounting as well as spending time as a Senior Company Administrator.

Her all round experience of accounting and audit, VAT and company administration has given her the necessary tools to provide clients with accurate advice and the documentation they need in a timely manner.

"In war we do not need to have the largest army in order to win. It is important not to advance recklessly. When we concentrate our forces so they match those of the enemy, if we respect the enemy's strength and carefully study his movements, we will win."
